Good evening,

This is the email that was sent to our management team. Please let me know if you have any questions or concerns.

Good evening,

The DIG has been in communication with our partner agencies and have the following updates. Please keep in mind, that this is raw intelligence from the field and subject to change as the conditions do.

Detroit / Windsor as of 18:00:

- Due to chatter about blocking U.S. bound traffic on Huron Church, Windsor Police Service

(WPS) will be closing Huron Church access to the bridge, however, Wyandotte Street will remain open.

- Windsor Police Service (WPS) has a drone and will provide stills to the OPP.
- Multiple campers and trailers with generators have shown at the protest area to support the protesters.
 - Multiple groups preparing food.
- Current numbers in the area
 - 131 vehicles (including 2 transport; 1 dump truck)
 - Estimate of 400 people
- No flags or symbols of concern.
- Lots of fuel cans in back of pickup trucks.
- Chatter shows group in-fighting and lack of leadership / control.
- Unknown red helicopter overhead throughout the day.

Port Huron / Sarnia as of 18:00

- Traffic for westbound hwy 402 is backed up in both lanes from the Bluewater Bridge for approximately 12kms (7.4 miles). Outbound traffic into Canada on the Bluewater Bridge is also backed up on the bridge.
- No protesters in the area.

If you have any questions or concerns, please reachout to Tara or myself.

Thanks,

Joe Janos
